Summary

I'm a Data Science graduate student at the University of Maryland, passionate about building AI and data-driven solutions that solve real-world problems. I'm currently seeking Summer 2025 internship opportunities in Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning, Data Analytics, Data Engineering, and Business Intelligence.

My experience spans across predictive modeling, NLP, and real-time data pipelines. I've worked hands-on with end-to-end ML workflows using tree-based models, neural networks, and model stacking. I'm also proficient in building scalable ETL pipelines with Azure Databricks, SQL, and Delta Lake. In the NLP space, I've deployed RAG-based applications using LangChain, Transformers, and FAISS.

Whether it's developing dashboards in Power BI and Streamlit or optimizing data workflows, I enjoy connecting data to decisions. I've applied my skills across domains like finance, healthcare, and supply chain — always aiming to deliver impact with clarity and precision.

Let's connect if you're looking for someone who blends technical depth with a strong business mindset.
